

Data privacy information

Thank you for your visit to our website and your interest in our offers. We take the protection of your personal data very seriously. Below we would like to inform you how your personal data is processed when you use our website and make use of our contents and services. Personal data is all data that can be connected to you as a person, e.g. name, address, e-mail addresses, user behavior.

1. Responsible person, processor, data protection officer

1. The responsible party according to Art. 4 No. 7 EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) is Magnescale Europe GmbH, Antoniusstrasse 14, DE-73249 Wernau, info-eu@magnescale.com ("We").
2. Magnescale Co., Ltd., 3-1-4 Edagawa, Koto-ku, JP- 135-0051 Tokyo, info-mgs@magnescale.com operates this website on our behalf.
3. Should you have any questions concerning data privacy law, our group data protection officer is available for you. You can reach him under GILDEMEISTER Beteiligungen GmbH, FAO Group data protection, DECKEL MAHO Straße 1, DE-87459 Pfronten, responsibility@dmgmori.com.

2. General information about processing of personal data

1. We only process personal data, if this is required for providing a functional website and our content and services. In general, we only process your personal data with your consent. An exception applies in cases, in which prior consent is not feasible and legal provisions permit processing of data.
2. Art. 6 section 1 (a) GDPR is the legal foundation for processing personal data after requesting the consent of the affected person.

Art. 6 section 1 (b) GDPR is the legal foundation for processing personal data required for performance of a contract, of which the affected person is a contracting party. This also applies to data processing required for pre-contractual measures.

Art. 6 section 1 (c) GDPR is the legal foundation for processing personal data to comply with a legal obligation to which we are subject.

Art. 6 section 1 (d) GDPR is the legal foundation for processing personal data required due to vital interests of the affected person or another natural person.

If data processing is required to fulfil our legitimate interest or the legitimate interest of a third party and if the interests, fundamental rights and freedoms of the affected party do not override these aforementioned interests, Art. 6 section 1 (f) GDPR is the legal foundation for data processing.

3. The personal data of the affected person will be deleted or blocked, as soon as the purpose of storage no longer applies. Data may also be stored, if this is intended by European and national lawmakers in EU directives, laws or other regulations to which the responsible party is subject. The data will also be blocked or deleted, when a storage period required by the above-mentioned standards ends, unless further storage of the data is required for contract conclusion or performance.
4. When you contact us by e-mail, through a contact form or by registering on our website, we will save the data supplied by you to process your questions/enquiries. We will delete the data collected in this context, once storage is no longer required, or limit processing thereof, if legally mandated retention periods apply.
5. If we use commissioned service providers for individual functions included in our offer or wish to use your data for promotional purposes, we will inform you in detail about these processes as described below. We will also name the criteria defined for the duration of storage.

3. Collection of personal data when you visit our website

1. If you use our website purely for information purposes, that is, if you do not register or otherwise transmit information, we only collect the personal data transmitted to our server by your browser. If you wish to view our website, we will collect the following data required for technical purposes to display our website and ensure stability and security (the legal foundation is Art. 6 section 1 (f) GDPR):
  - IP address
  - Date and time of access
  - Time zone difference from Greenwich Mean Time (GMT)
  - Contents of the request (specific site)

- Access status/HTTP status code
  - Data volume transferred
  - Website where the request originated
  - Browser
  - Operating system and its interface
  - Language and version of the browser software.
2. In addition to the above-mentioned data, cookies are saved on your computer when you use our website. Cookies are small text files saved on your hard drive in association with the browser you use and used to transmit certain information to the body responsible for setting the cookie (in this case, us). Cookies cannot execute programs or transfer viruses to your computer. They are used to make the overall web presence more user-friendly and effective.

4. Application options

You have the option of sending a job application by e-mail. If you send an application, we collect and save the data you send us by e-mail. We process your data exclusively for the purpose of your application. The legal foundation for this processing is Art. 6 section 1 (b) GDPR. If we cannot offer you a job, we store your data for no longer than six months after the end of the application process.

5. Integration of Google Maps

1. Our website uses the services of Google Maps. This allows us to display interactive maps on our website and permits you convenient usage of the map function.
2. When you visit the website, Google receives the information that you have accessed the respective sub-page of our website. In addition, the data listed under section 3 of this statement is transmitted. This is the case irrespective of whether or not you have a Google user account and are logged into it. If you are logged into a Google account, your data is associated directly with your account. If you do not wish for your data to be associated with your Google profile, log out before activating the button. Google saves your data as usage profiles and uses it for the purposes of promotion, market research and/or tailoring its website to the users' needs. In particular, this evaluation is conducted (even for users not logged into a user account) to provide tailored advertising and to inform other users of the social network about your activities on our website.

You have a right to object to the creation of these user profiles, but in order to exercise this right, you will have to contact Google.

3. For further information on the purpose and extent of data collection and processing thereof by the plug-in provider, refer to the provider's data privacy statement. It also contains information on your associated rights and setting options to protect your privacy: <https://www.google.de/intl/en/policies/privacy>. Google also processes your personal data in the USA and has subjected itself to the EU-US Privacy Shield, <https://www.privacyshield.gov/EU-US-Framework>.

6. Safety measures

1. As required by Art. 32 GDPR, we take suitable technical and organizational measures to ensure a level of protection appropriate to the risk, taking into account the state of the art, the cost of implementation and the nature, scope, context and purposes of processing as well as the risks of varying likelihood and severity for rights and freedoms of natural persons.
2. These measures include, in particular, the safeguarding of reliability, integrity and availability of data by controlling physical access to the data as well as access associated with the data, input, disclosure, safeguarding of availability and separation. Moreover, we have established methods for ensuring that affected parties can exercise their rights, for ensuring data deletion and appropriate reactions to risks to the data. Moreover, we take the protection of personal data into account even when developing or selecting hardware, software and methods, based on the principle of data protection by design and by default settings conducive to data protection (Art. 25 GDPR).
3. To ensure security and safeguard the transfer of confidential data, e.g. enquiries, transmitted by you to us in our role as the provider of the websites, these websites use SSL encryption. An encrypted connection is indicated by the address bar of your browser changing from "http://" to "https://" and a padlock symbol in your browser bar. When this SSL encryption is active, the data you transmit to us cannot be read by third parties.
4. We would, however, like to point out that online data transmission (e.g. when communicating by e-mail) is subject to security vulnerabilities. Perfect protection of data from access by third parties is not possible.

7. Cooperation with processors and third parties

1. If we disclose, transmit or otherwise grant access to data to other persons and companies (order processors or third parties) in the context of our processing of this data, this is only done on the basis of legal permissibility (e.g. when transmission of data to third parties, such as financial service providers, is required according to Art. 6 section 1 (b) GDPR for contract performance), on the basis of your consent, based on a legal obligation or our legitimate interest, e.g. when commissioning service providers, web hosts, etc.
2. If we commission third parties to process our data based on a so-called processing contract, this will be based on Art. 28 GDPR.

8. Transfer to third countries

If we process data in a third country, i.e. outside of the European Union (EU) or the European Economic Area (EEA) or if this is done in the context of using third-party services or disclosure or transfer of data to third parties, this shall only be done, if it is required for performing our (pre-)contractual obligations, if you have given your consent, or if it is based on a legal obligation or on our legitimate interest. Subject to legal or contractual permissions, we only process data or have data processed in third countries, if the special prerequisites of Art. 44 ff. GDPR exist. I.e. processing is, e.g. based on special safeguards, such as the official establishment of a data protection level equivalent to that of the EU (e.g. the "Privacy Shield" for the USA) or adherence to officially recognized special contractual obligations ("standard contractual clauses").

9. Your rights

1. You have the following rights with regard to personal data related to your person:
  - Right of access (Art. 15 GDPR),
  - Right to rectification or erasure (Art. 16 and Art. 17 GDPR),
  - Right to restriction of processing (Art. 18 GDPR),
  - Right to notification (Art. 19 GDPR),
  - Right to data portability (Art. 20 GDPR).
2. Moreover, you have the right to object to processing of personal data related to your person at any time for reasons based on your specific situation, if this processing is based on Art. 6 section 1 (e) GDPR (data processing for public interest) or Art. 6 section 1 (f) GDPR (data processing based on weighing of interests); this also applies to profiling based on these provisions (Art. 21 GDPR). If you object, your personal data will only be processed further, if we can prove that there are compelling, legitimate reasons overriding your interests, rights and freedoms or if processing is for the purpose of asserting, exercising or defending legal claims.

3. If you have given us permission to process your personal data, you can revoke it at any time. The legitimacy of processing of your personal data up to the point at which you revoked your consent remains unaffected. Further processing of this data based on a different legal foundation, for instance to meet legal obligations, also remains unaffected.
4. You have the right to file a complaint with a data privacy supervisory authority about our processing of your personal data.
5. We would like to ask you to address claims or statements to the following contact address, if possible: responsibility@dmgmori.com
